

LX Scala - Lisbon

The biggest Scala Conference in Southwest Europe

One track, one day, one awesome community.

May 12th 2017

LX SCALA

What

For the second time, Lisbon hosts an event of this nature where experts in Scala from across the World will discuss the present and future trends around the programming language.

With a limited audience of 100 people, LX Scala try to gather professionals from communities of Portugal, Spain and the UK.

Why

It's important make stronger the Community. A good Community around Scala is the best way to create libraries of relevance. The Scala Community of Spain and Portugal are fragmented because the different country and the cities, this is an event focused in the people to talk familiarly with the people that moves the Meetups.

Who

This non-profit conference is hosted by 47 Degrees, Codacy & E.near and supported by Malaga, Madrid and BCN Scala User Group, Portugal Scala User Group and London Scala User Group.

A conference made it from and by the Community

When

On Friday May 12th, the conference opening will be held at 08:00 and talks are scheduled until 19:00.

The event will conclude with party and rock concert at 23:00.

Where

It's a pleasure to have the support of Microsoft Portugal on our conference, who made available its headquartered in Lisbon, located on the riverside of the Tagus river.

An awesome venue with outdoor spaces, theater and a huge place to enjoy and share Scala knowledge.
