

LX Scala

The greatest Scala Conference in Southwest Europe

One track, one day, one awesome community.

June 8th, 2018

LX SCALA

What

For the third time, Lisbon is going to host the greatest Scala Conference in Portugal. In this event, Scala experts from across the world will discuss the present and future trends around the programming language. With a limited audience of 150 people, LX Scala gathers professionals from communities from Portugal, Spain and the UK.

When

On Friday June 8th, the conference opening will be held at 08:00 and talks are scheduled until 19:00.

The event will conclude with a closing party.

Why

A Community around Scala is the best way to create libraries of relevance. Spanish and Portuguese Communities are fragmented and this event is an opportunity to familiarly talk with people that engage in Meetups.

Who

This non-profit conference is hosted by e.near, supported by 47degrees and Scala User Groups from Malaga, Madrid, BCN, Portugal and London.

A conference made for and by the Community.

Where

It's a pleasure to have the support of Microsoft Portugal on our conference, who made available its headquarters in Lisbon, located on the riverside of the Tagus river.

An awesome venue with outdoor spaces, theater and a huge place to enjoy and share Scala knowledge.
